Chicago, IL — available to travel

SOUND
House, electronic, global club rhythms, R&B, hip-hop

ALSO KNOWN AS
PATRICIA CVIII — original music

“Rhythm has always been one of our oldest ways of finding one another.”

Patricia plays for the body first. The way rhythm settles in before thought, and a familiar groove can spark recognition between strangers.

Raised between Chicago and Las Vegas and shaped by years of travel, she approaches music as a conversation across cities, cultures and generations.

Her sets move through global club rhythms, electronic music, house, R&B and hip-hop, guided less by genre than by feeling. She moves instinctively between moments of tension and release, knowing when to build, when to pull back and when to let a record speak for itself.

Based in Chicago, she performs across the U.S. and internationally. Her work has taken her to TEDxChicago, the Chicago House Music Conference and The Salt Shed, with appearances for Soho House and the WNBA, including a halftime show and WNBA All-Star. In 2025 she released her first original track, NOT_THIS_TL, as PATRICIA CVIII. Her story was featured by Rolling Out in 2026.
